INTRODUCTION

The delivery of quality services to those we serve has been a Traverse Independence priority over the past many years. As the organization has grown and expanded this is one value and principle that has been constant.

To drive the quest for quality forward, the board of directors have consistently had the expectation of quality service delivery in their strategic plan. It is the board’s responsibility to lead the organization forward through the mission, vision, values and strategic plan, and quality has always been front and centre. Keeping in mind that the board’s strategic plan has several priority objectives within it, the first one has a strong focus on quality: Provide a recognized service that supports quality care and client safety. (See excerpt from the board’s strategic plan below.) The board has also identified in recent training that while the first priority objective or pillar very clearly supports quality, all of the others also feed into quality services to the clients. A comprehensive, yet consistent and best practice service delivery model meets the changing needs of clients, integrating into an ecosystem of team partners supports sustainable and robust services through partnership and engagement.

As an organization, we are fully committed to a culture where quality client care is integrated into our daily services, thus ensuring our services are provided in an effective and competent manner. We currently serve clients with an acquired brain injury and with a physical disability across three individual Ontario Health Team catchment area. THE QUALITY PLAN STRATEGIC PRIORITIES

The quality plan was developed to support the board’s strategic plan. Three areas of focus have been selected that support the pillars of the strategic plan in a general sense.

RESPONSIBILITY

Quality management is the responsibility of the governors, employees, clients, and caregivers/family. The managers and front-line employees play a part in the quality, reliability, and safety of the programs and services provided to our clients. The board of directors ultimately holds the responsibility for the implementation of the quality plan.

It is up to management with oversight through the board, to ensure that quality systems are designed, implemented, monitored, and evaluated on an ongoing basis and that the board of directors has the background information they require to support the quality plan.

REPORTING

Following is a critical path, which provides the goals, objectives, and measurable outcomes for the quality system along with who is responsible for achieving the measures.

Using a scorecard, the results of the goals and objectives will be measured quarterly with results provided not only to the board of directors, but to employees, clients, caregivers, and the public. The client safety committee will have a strong focus on quality and will provide monthly updates on client safety as a quality indicator.
